

Revocation of Consent to pay overdrafts on ATM and everyday debit card transactions

By signing below, you understand that Bank of New Madrid will no longer authorize and pay your overdrafts via ATM terminals and your everyday debit card transactions. Revoking your consent will result in a decline of your ATM and debit card transactions that exceed your available balance.

Once you have opted out, you will be allowed to opt in again later if you decide to do so. You may opt in again by calling 573-748-5551 to request a new ATM-POS opt in form, or by visiting www.bankofnewmadrid.com or your local branch to complete the appropriate request form. Please note that frequent or repeated opting in and out will be considered abuse of your account services and could result in loss of your future eligibility at our discretion.

I HEREBY REVOKE my consent to authorize and pay overdrafts on my ATM and everyday debit card transactions.
